

SARRA Summer Internships

Proud Legacy, Bold Future

Los Alamos National Laboratory was founded in 1943 to design and build an atomic bomb for the Manhattan Project. Today, civilians and military personnel collaborate to solve national security challenges.

The Service Academies and ROTC Associates (SARRA) Program offers technical and non-technical internships to service academy and ROTC students.

Your Challenge Awaits

To increase your acceptance likelihood, ensure you have:

- a minimum GPA of 3.2,
- approval from a school representative
- a security clearance (or a submitted application for clearance), and
- the ability to dedicate part of the summer to in-person, virtual, or hybrid learning
